CALIFORNIA INTERMEDIATE TAX-EXEMPT FUND (NCITX)

As of 09/30/21

FUND COMMENTARY

The world economy continued its struggle with COVID-19 in the third quarter. While new lockdowns were implemented in some countries, vaccinations rose and economies reopened despite new virus strains. Central Banks began to unwind the ultra-accommodative policies in. The Federal Reserve believed the US economy was making progress on its inflation and employment goals and signaled its intention to announce plans in the near future to taper its quantitative easing program.

Investors continued to make large contributions into the municipal market. The prospect for higher income taxes under the Biden administration was frequently noted as at least part of the reason for increasing allocations to tax-exempt bonds.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark in the quarter. The largest contributor to performance relative to the benchmark was in the Fund's overall duration, which was generally less than that of the benchmark. The largest detractor to performance was the Fund's overall credit quality. The Fund owned less credit risk than the benchmark against a backdrop where lower rated credits performed very well.

<sup>1</sup>Bloomberg California Intermediate Municipal Bond Index is an unmanaged index of investment grade (Baa3 or better) tax-exempt California bonds with maturities of five to 10 years. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Performance quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than that shown here. Performance data current to the most recent month end is available by calling 800-595-9111.

The Gross and Net Expense Ratios are as of the most recent prospectus. The Net Expense Ratio includes contractual expense reimbursements that, if not extended, will end on July 31, 2022.

Bond Risk: Bond funds will tend to experience smaller fluctuations in value than stock funds. However, investors in any bond fund should anticipate fluctuations in price, especially for longer-term issues and in environments of rising interest rates.

Non-Diversified Risk: The Fund invests in a smaller number of securities than the average mutual fund. The change in value of a single holding may have a more pronounced effect on the Fund's net asset value and performance than for other funds.

Regional Investment Risk: The geographical concentration of portfolio holdings in this Fund may involve increased risk.

Tax-Free/AMT Risk: Tax-exempt funds' income may be subject to certain state and local taxes and, depending on your tax status, the federal alternative minimum tax.

Not FDIC insured | May lose value | No bank guarantee
