PORTFOLIO MANAGER COMMENTARY

At its August monetary policy meeting, the Bank of England (BoE) voted unanimously to leave the Bank Rate unchanged at 0.10%. Accompanying forecasts revealed that the BoE expects the UK's economy to contract by 9.5% this year (vs. 14% contraction forecast in May), bounce back to 9% growth in 2021 and grow 3.5% in 2022. The forecast for CPI Inflation in 2020 is at 0.25%, 1.75% in 2021 and 2% in 2022. For this year, the unemployment rate is projected to hover around 7.5% and is expected to improve to 6% in 2021 and 4.5% in 2022. The BoE restated that the outlook remained unusually uncertain and developments around the pandemic, public health care measures, and the response of governments, households and businesses to these factors would steer the course of economic recovery. They have also repeatedly reinforced that it continues to monitor the situation and stands ready to act as necessary to support the economy.

The UK economy contracted 20.4%q/q (21.7%y/y) in Q2 2020 as revealed by preliminary estimates in the wake of measures introduced to battle the pandemic. Flash PMI figures revealed that August's Composite PMI rose to 60.3; the Services PMI accelerated to 60.1 whilst the Manufacturing PMI climbed to 55.3. Headline inflation rose to 1%y/y, supported by clothing, transport costs and household items, whilst Core CPI climbed to 1.8%y/y in July. On the labour market front, jobless claims increased by 94.4k in July from a 28.1k decline in June. The unemployment rate held steady at 3.9% in Q2 2020 while average weekly earnings decreased by 1.2% (3m/y). Retail sales were up 3.6% m/m in July, following June's 13.9% m/m rise. The GfK Consumer Confidence Index held steady at -27 in August.

PORTFOLIO OUTLOOK

We continue to maintain a conservative investment strategy focusing on liquidity and a lower risk profile. In line with this, new investments were focused in higher quality exposures and maturities within six months. High levels of overnight liquidity and a proactive stance to managing credit risk are paramount given the uncertain environment at this time. Opportunities to extend duration were focused in longer dated sovereign and agency investments with a preference towards stronger macro-economic regions.
